Installation Details & Instructions

EdenITServices.com will provide a LinkSys firewall, which is not to be altered except by our technicians/engineers.

We currently provide a single STATIC IP ADDRESS to each subscriber, although this could change in the future. These are REAL public, routable static IP addresses, NOT static DHCP private addresses. Should you need further assistance during the setup of EdenITServices.com is also very well equipped to provide first class web hosting and email services. We are also cabling experts and can professionally cable your entire office, with all cables INSIDE the walls, to local codes.

 Notice ***

Configuration of a Local-Area Network is normally not included with service activation.
EdenITServices.com can provide network engineering services at a reduced rate of only $55.00 per hour.

 Email Information ***

Please configure your outgoing email server address to: smtp@edenhosting.net
